Service coverage specifically excludes failures due to operator errors, lack of operator maintenance, abnormal or unapproved uses, and acts of third parties, faulty electrical connections, fluctuations or failures in air conditioning, water quality specifications, heating or cooling systems and electrical power failures, dust, dirt, liquids, computer viruses, force majeure conditions, or other causes beyond Roche's reasonable control. To the extent Customer requests that Roche provide repairs excluded from Service coverage, additional costs will apply. Services exclude any device used or associated with the Equipment which was not part of the Equipment as originally manufactured (e.g., external computers, external water supply, external uninterruptible power supply and external line conditioners). Roche may modify the Equipment in order to improve its use and reliability. Modifications required to meet use or reliability specifications will be performed as part of the warranty or the Services. If a Schedule provides for an allowance to acquire a product or service from a third party, Customer will be solely responsible for selecting the vendor and for any validation relating to that product or service.

Please refer to the standard Roche Service Terms and Conditions for additional detail that is not covered on this summary sheet.
